The TBM 910 and 930: Speed and excellent economics for charter operations

A new video available on AIN TV

AIN TV, the video channel of Aviation International News, put the focus on Daher's TBM 910 and TBM 930, including their excellent speed operating economics for charter operations. The availability of these latest two TBM versions comes as new airworthiness rules enable the use of single-engine turbine aircraft on charter flights, including in European airspace.
